Index Appendix for Part Numbers

We would like to inform you, that due to changes within our production process, the part numbers of the C146 Series hoods and housings will now feature the appendix "F" as an index.

i.e.: C146 10F024 000 1 F or C146 11R016 600 8 F

During the transition, you may receive documents such as quotations and shipment papers, either with or without the letter "F" at the end. Please note that upon completion of the change, hoods and housings will feature an "F" as an appendix at all times.

Please take notice of this in your documentation and be sure to inform your goods-inward department.

The change to our production process has absolutely no influence on technical issues!

If you wish, you can continue to use the standard number (i.e. without "F") for your communication with Amphenol.

Concerned P/Ns
All hoods and housings of Series C146
