Clarification of EU RoHS Compliance

Riverside, California – November 14, 2024 – Effective immediately, the EU RoHS compliance determination for the Bourns® products listed below is clarified to show Lead as an alloying element in Aluminum of up to 0.4 % by weight. In the Bourns® products listed below we use Aluminum 2011-T3 which contains Lead by weight within the permitted percentage by weight under Exemption 6(b) to EU RoHS Directive.

There has not been, nor will there be, any design, material, or manufacturing process change arising out of this clarification for the Bourns® products listed below. The form, fit, function, quality, reliability and production lead times will remain the same. The purchase order lead times and minimum / maximum order quantities will remain the same.

Concurrently herewith, Bourns is updating the applicable Material Declaration Sheets for the Bourns® products listed below to identify the Lead content and the applicable Certificates of EU RoHS compliance to show reliance on Exemption 6(b) for Lead as an alloying element in Aluminum.
