PCN #:E-13-005386

Subject:Faston, EP and cluster.

Description of Change: In an effort to standardize raw material on a global basis, TE Connectivity has completed a review of our current material standards for phosphor bronze connectors. This review has resulted in our decision to reduce the number of regional alloys and align at the global level by standardizing on C42500 alloy.

Reason: New specification. N/A

Impact of Change:form - fit - function
