Subject:TEC Generation Y 0.64mm Terminal Global Capacity Expansion

Description of Change: Effective 01Oct12, TE Connectivity (TEC) is approving our Generation Y contact for global manufacturing distribution to increase flexibility in meeting customer demand. Specifically TEC will be utilizing existing approved manufacturing locations in Belgium and Korea for shipping Generation Y contacts to fulfill customer orders. Please note with this change customers could receive product from any or all three approved regions (North America, Europe and Asia).

Reason: Customer Request. TEC needs to manage Global Capacity in order to meet increasing customer demand. TEC will contain non-PPAP approved product through different inventory locations that have the ability in SAP to block shipments until PPAP s are approved. The following information will be used for PPAP approvals: 1. Warrant, including IMDS Evidence (screen shot from IMDS portal); 2. TEC Customer Drawing; 3. TEC Dimensional Report; 4. TEC Performance Testing Report; 5. TEC Raw Material Certifications; 6. TEC Manufacturing Site QMS Certifications.
